MODULE 9 : ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

Full Transcript:

You made it! I'm doing the happy dance here for you. You are now at the final module of my Complete Storytelling System! You've put the time in and used each of the worksheets. You've begun to create a storytelling culture that is transforming your office.

And you are regularly sharing both your people and money stories. I know, you're not always doing it perfectly, right? Nothing is perfect. Don't worry. What is perfect is that your work continues to make a difference and by sharing powerful people stories AND money stories you're making sure others know exactly how to support your organization.

Congratulations!

Thank you for spending this time with me and investing in this system. I hope you have found it valuable and you're ready, or maybe you're already, seeing positive changes.

I look forward to hearing your feedback and your storytelling successes!

I've got a few 'extras' in this final Module of your guidebook that I believe you'll find useful.

It's been my honor to spend this time with you.

Good luck!

To your storytelling success!
